

How Insurance Commissioners can Improve Maternal Health Outcomes

---

DORIANNE MASON,
NATIONAL WOMEN'S LAW CENTER

Agenda

---

- Brief background
- Federal landscape
- Recommendations

Woman in a hospital gown, who appears to be Black, holds a newborn and kisses the baby on the nose.

Disparities in maternal and infant health

---

Woman, who appears to be Black, holds baby who rests his head on her shoulder and the baby's eyes look off screen.

Disparities in Health Care

In the forefront of the picture, a woman, who appears to be Black with shoulder length dreadlocks, smiles down at a baby laying on a table. The woman has on a gray, short-sleeved dress, and she is holding a striped small hat. The baby has on blue. Two women, who appear white, sit in the background of the picture.

---

Recent Federal Administrative Action

Race and Data Collection

---

- Reduction in Churn
- Tracking of utilization and expenditures
- Translating coverage to quality care

A woman, who appears to be Black, holds a baby in her right arm and smiles while she feeds the baby a bottle with her left hand. The woman has curly hair and has on a tan sweater. The baby has on a white onesie.

Network adequacy standards

- Ensure access to quality providers
- Coverage for midwives and doulas
  - Including certified professional midwives (CPMs) and certified midwives (CMs)
- Culturally competent care
  - Encourage implicit bias and anti-racism training

Two women sit closely with the woman on the left's arm around the other's shoulder. A baby sits on one woman's lap staring up at her while both ladies look down at the baby with smiles. Both ladies wear hijabs, one purple and the other light green, and the baby has on a pink romper with a cartoon character on it.

EHB benchmark selection

- Robust prenatal and postnatal services
- Coverage for birth centers & home births
- Ensure meet ACA requirements
  - Maternity coverage for dependent enrollees
  - No cost sharing for women's preventive services
  - No arbitrary limits on services
  - Coverage of breastfeeding education and breast pumps

---

Recommendations

